Persons of sedentary habits troubled with weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, torpid liver, constipation, &c., deserve to suffer if they will not try the celebrated PLANTATION BITTERS, which are now recommended by the highest medical authorities, and are warranted to produce an immediate beneficial effect. They are exceedingly agreeable, perfectly pure, and must supersede all other tonics where a healthy, gentle stimulant is required.

They purify, strengthen and invigorate.
They create a healthy appetite.
They are an antidote to change of water and diet.
They strengthen the system and enliven the mind.
They prevent miasmatic and intermittent fevers.
They purify the breath and acidity of the stomach.
They cure Dyspepsia and Constipation
They cure Liver Complaint and Nervous Headache.
They make the weak strong, the languid brilliant, and are acknowledged nature's great restorer. They are composed of the celebrated Calisaya Bark, wintergreen, Sassafras, roots and herbs, all preserved in perfectly pure St. Croix rum. For particulars, see circulars and testimonials around each bottle.

Beware of imposters. Examine every bottle. See that it has our private U. S. stamp unmutilated over the cork with plantation scene, and our signature on a fine steel plate side label. ☞See that our bottle is not refilled with spurious and deleterious stuff. ☞Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters by the gallon or in bulk, is an impostor. Any person imitating this bottle, or selling any other material therein, whether called Plantation Bitters or not, is a criminal under the U. S Law, and will be so prosecuted by us. The demand for Drake's Plantation Bitters, from ladies, clergymen, merchants, &c., is incredible. The simple trial of a bottle is the evidence we present of their worth and superiority. They are sold by all respectable druggists grocers, physicians, hotels, saloons, steamboats and country stores.

Have you a hurt child or a lame horse? Use the Mexican Mustang Liniment.

For cuts, sprains, burns swellings and caked breasts, the Mexican Mustang Liniment is a certain cure.

For rheumatism, neuralgia, stiff joints, stings and bites, there is nothing like the Mexican Mustang Liniment.

For spavined horses, the poll evil, ringbone and sweeny, the Mexican Mustang Liniment never fails.

For wind-galls, scratches, big-head and splint, the Mexican Mustang Liniment is worth its weight in gold.

Cuts, bruises, sprains and swellings are so common and certain to occur in every family, that a bottle of this Liniment is the best investment that can be made.

It is more certain than the doctor—it saves time in sending for the doctor—it is cheaper than the doctor, and should never be dispensed with.

"In lifting the kettle from the fire, it tipped over and scalded my hands terribly. * * * The Mustang Liniment extracted the pain, caused the sore to heal rapidly, and left very little scar.

CHAS. SPEBR, 490 Broad street, Philada.

Mr. S. Litch, of Hyde Park, Vt., writes: "My horse was considered worthless, (spavin,) but since the use of the Mustang Liniment, I have sold him for $150. Your Liniment is doing wonders up here."

All genuine is wrapped in steel plate engravings, signed, G. W Westbrook, Chemist, and also has the private U. S. stamp of Demas Barnes & Co., over the top.

Look closely, and be not deceived by counterfeits.

Sold by all Druggists at 25, 50 cts, and $1,00.

It is a most delightful Hair Dressing.
It eradicates scurf and dandruff.
It keeps the head cool and clean.
It makes the hair rich, soft and glossy.
It prevents the hair turning gray and falling off.
It restores hair upon prematurely bald heads.

This is just what Lyon's Kathairon will do. It is pretty—it is cheap—durable. It is literally sold by the carload, and yet its almost incredible demand is daily increasing, until there is hardly a country store that does not keep it, or a family that does not use it.

Who would not be beautiful? Who would not add to their beauty? What gives that marble purity and distingue appearance we observe upon the stage and in the city belle? It is no longer a secret. They use Hagan's Magnolia Balm. Its continued use removes tan, freckles, pimples, and roughness, from the face and hands, and leaves the complexion smooth, transparent, blooming and ravishing. Unlike many cosmetics, it can sine no material injurious to the skin. Any Druggist will order it for you, if not on hand, at 50 cents per bottle.

Heimstreet's inimitable Hair Coloring is not a dye. All instantaneous dyes are composed of lunar caustic, and more or less destroy the vitality and beauty of the hair. This is the original Hair Coloring, and has been growing in favor over twenty years. It restores gray hair to its original color by gradual absorption, in a most remarkable manner. It is also a beautiful hair dressing. Sold in two sizes—50 cents and $1—by all dealers.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

TO THE LADIES.—Do you really intend to cease wearing the beautiful styles now so prevalent, or dress less elegantly, because the rebel Jeff. Davis, was captured in Fashionable Female attire? One moment's calm reflection will surely serve to change your rash resolve. The angels had too much good sense to lay aside their pure chaste robes of white, because they had for a time served to hide the deformities of that Prince of Rebels, the Devil. Can you err in following the example of Angels? Then having made up your minds that you will continue to dress tastefully regardless of rebel acts, do not forget to call at the store of the subscribers, who will be happy at all times to furnish you with such articles of dress as you may desire. Urge your fathers, husbands, brothers, neighbors and children to visit the same store. They can here be suited in good articles of Boots, Shoes, Clothing Material, Hats, Caps, Queensware and a general assortment of Groceries, on as reasonable terms as at any House in town. Store on Southeast corner of the Diamond, Huntingdon, Pa.

[From the New York Times.]

The Elections and the Restoration of the Union.

The result of the recent elections is entitled to very grave consideration in all the States and by all the parties to be affected by it. It announces the verdict of the people upon the great political question which awaits solution—the restoration of the Southern States to their share of political power in the General Government; and it establishes the political character of Congress throughout the whole of President Johnson's term of office. It has decided that the Democratic party as such shall not decide when, nor how, that restoration shall take place; and it has also decided, though with less directness and emphasis, that it shall not take place upon the President's policy of admitting members from those States into Congress, as a matter of right, and without conditions to be imposed by law. It has also decided that the Amendment to the Constitution proposed by Congress ought to be ratified and become valid as part and parcel of of that instrument, before restoration takes place at all.

In our judgment the public welfare demands that this decision should be accepted, and respected, by the whole country—by the North and by the South, and by the President himself, as a final solution of a complicated and perilous problem. The very necessity of the case seems to us a strong reason for such a course. It is a decision from which there is no appeal. Two years from now, it is true, the people may be called upon to review their verdict; but who can tell in what dangers and disasters the nation may be meanwhile involved? Every dictate of safety and every interest of the country demand that the Union should be restored at the earliest possible moment. The South is especially interested in this, because until that is done it can have no voice whatever in national affairs, and all its material, social and pecuniary interests must be seriously impaired. The President is equally interested in the same result, because it is the only thing which can give scope to the exercise of the legitimate functions of its high office, and afford him the political support which he needs. Of the House of Representatives, as now constituted, the Union party has more than two thirds. The President is, therefore, powerless to arrest any measure of legislation upon which they may be united—powerless even to prevent his own impeachment, if that should be resolved on as a party measure. The admission of loyal members from the South would afford a counterpoise to this ascendancy which, without destroying the Union majority, would put an effectual check upon the extreme action of its most reckless members.

It may be urged that Congress has no right to exact assent to the Amendment as a condition of representation in Congress. We admit it—we do not believe the right exists. But if the people assert and exercise it, where lies the remedy? The case cannot be carried into any court. The President has no power to redress the wrong; he cannot set aside existing law, nor force members into Congress against the will of Congress itself. Besides, this requirement is not put into the form of any law; it is simply acted upon, not asserted,—and it is not easy to see, therefore, how constitutional objections can be made to reach it.—If members vote against admission, and the people sustain them in so doing, we do not see how either courts or the President can take cognizance of their action; still less how it can be reversed.

The Southern States are unquestionably called upon to sacrifice something of both power and pride, in order to resume their relations to the Federal Government. They are asked to assent to a change in the basis of representation, which will somewhat diminish their numbers, and to a temporary exclusion from office of certain classes of their people. In neither case is there anything which they can fairly regard as intended or calculated to humiliate or degrade them. It may seem to them unjust that men who have stood by them in the war against the Government should be put under a ban in official service; but this is one of the legitimate and usual consequences of failure in such an enterprise as they undertook. It was among the risks they encountered. It is no more humiliating for them to lose political power, than to lose property, liberty, and life, as a result of defeat in rebellion against the national authority.—The whole question with them turns upon considerations of interest—their honor and their pride are not involved. Will they lose more than they will gain by accepting the amendment?—Will the power and influence they will secure in the national councils be worth to them more or less than that they sacrifice in the effort to regain it? These are questions for themselves to answer, and upon their answers to them their action should depend.

Nor will it be wise for the South to leave out of view the probable consequences of refusing to accept the conditions of the amendment as the basis of restoration. They cannot doubt that the effect of refusal will be to strengthen the Radical sentiment that already demands more extreme conditions and threatens the most ultra and destructive measures. That sentiment is not yet dominant in the Union party, nor will it become so unless it is strengthened again, as it has been hitherto, by unwise action on the part of the President and the Southern States. At almost any time during the last session of Congress it might have been disarmed and overborne, if the resistance to the Union party on the part of the President had been less indiscriminate and more judicious; and even as it was, it failed to carry any of its extreme and violent measures. If the President and the Southern States will accept the popular decision just pronounced as entitled to respect, and afford, by judicious and considerate action, a basis for the more moderate and discreet portion of the Union party to act upon, we are confident that all our difficulties may yet be overcome. The people are not revengeful nor irrational in their temper or their views. They do not seek or desire the degradation of the South, nor do they endorse or approve the wild vagaries and crazy schemes of Butler, Stevens, and their confederates. But they believe the Constitutional Amendment to be essentially just, and its adoption necessary to the peace and safety of the nation. Hostility and bitter resistance may drive them into more extreme positions, and thus strengthen the faction from which the country at large, and especially the South, has the most to fear; and it cannot possibly change or improve the action of Congress for at least three years to come.

THE SEQUEL.—Our readers have all heard the story of soaping the clergyman's tin horn at a camp meeting so that when he went to call the congregation together, he blew the soft soap over his brother clergymen and how he exclaimed:

"Brethern, I have served the Lord thirty years, and in this time never uttered a profane word, but I'll be d—d if I can't whip the man that soaped my horn."

Our readers, we say, have all heard this, but have perhaps never heard the sequel, as given us by a gentleman present.

Some two days after at tall, swarthy, villainous looking desperado strolled on the grounds and leaned against a tree, listening to an eloquent exhortation to repent which was being made by the preacher.

After a while he became interested, finally affected, and then taking a position on the anxious seat commenced groaning, in the "very bitterness" of his sorrow. The clergyman walked down and attempted to console him. No consolation—he was too great a sinner, he said. No, he was too wicked, there was no mercy for him.

"Why, what crime have you committed?" said the preacher, "have you stolen?"

"Oh, worse than that."

"What, have you by violence, robbed female innocence of its virtue?"

"Worse than that! Oh, worse that?"

"Murder?" gasped the horrified minister.

"Worse than that!" groaned the smitten sinner.

The excited minister commenced "peeling off" his outer garments.

"Here, Brother Cole," he shouted, "hold my coat; I've found the fellow that soaped my horn!"

AMUSING INCIDENT.—The following ludicrous occurrence took place recently at a Good Templars' Lodge: Not having fitted up a hall, the lodge meets in a room adjoining which there are several sleeping apartments. At a meeting of this lodge one of the young lady officers had no table. A polite young gentlemen stepped to one of the rooms and soon returned with a wash stand from which the bowl and pitcher had been removed. Accepting the thanks of the lady he gracefully bowed and resumed his seat between a couple of blooming damsels, when to his horror he discovered upon the lower shelf of the wash-stand a domestic convenience in the crockery line, which he had neglected to remove. Blushing he shot from the hall without even an "adios." The lady survives.

Chas. Sumner on the Issue.

We clip the following from a speech delivered by Chas. Sumner, at Music Hall, Boston, on the 2d inst. It shows where the conflict will yet come, if it has not already. We have faith in the majority of our Representatives, and hope they will not follow the lead of a man who entertains such sentiments.

WHAT REMAINS TO BE DONE.

And now that I may give practical direction to these remarks, let me tell you plainly what must be done. In the first place, Congress must be sustained in its conflict with the One Man Power, and, in the second place, ex-rebels must not be restored to power. Bearing these two things in mind the way will be easy. Of course, the constitutional amendment must be adopted. As far as it goes, it is well; but it does not go far enough. More must be done. Impartial suffrage must be established. A homestead must be secured to every freedman, if in no other way, through the pardoning power. If to these is added Education, there will be a new order of things, with liberty of the press, liberty of speech, and liberty of travel, so that Wendell Phillips may speak freely in Charleston or Mobile. There is an old English play which goes under the name of the four "P's." Our present desires may be symbolized by four "E's," standing for Emancipation, Enfranchisement, Equality, and Education. Let these be secured and all else will follow.

I can never cease to regret that Congress has hesitated by proper legislation to assume a temporary jurisdiction over the whole rebel region. To my mind, the power was ample and unquestionable, whether in the exercise of belligerent rights, or in the exercise of rights derived directly from the Constitution itself. In this way, every thing needful might have been accomplished. In the exercise of this just jurisdiction, the rebel communities might have been fashioned anew, and shaped to loyalty and virtue The President lost a great opportunity at the beginning. Congress has lost another. But it is not too late. If indisposed to assume this jurisdiction by an enabling act constituting provisional governments, there are many things which Congress may do, acting indirectly or directly. Acting indirectly, it may insist that Emancipation, Enfranchisement, Equality, and Education shall be established as a condition precedent to the recognition of any State whose institutions have been overthrown by rebellion. Acting directly, it may, by Constitutional amendment or by simple legislation, fix all these forever.

You are aware, that, from the beginning, I have insisted upon impartial suffrage as the only certain guaranty of security and reconciliation. I renew this persistence and mean to hold on to the end.

Further on he says:

There is the Constitutional Amendment, already adopted by the people, which invests Congress with plenary powers to secure the abolition of slavery,—ay, its extirpation, according to the promise of the Baltimore platform; including the right to sue and testify in court, and the right also to vote. The distinction that has been attempted between what are called civil rights and political rights is a modern invention. These two words, "civil" and "political," in their origin have the same meaning. One is derived from the Latin, and the other from the Greek. Each signifies that which pertains to a city or citizen. Besides, if the elective franchise seems "appropriate" to assure the "extirpation" of slavery, Congress has the same power to secure this right which it has to secure the right to sue and testify in courts, which it has already done. Every argument, every reason, every consideration by which you assert the power for the protection of colored persons in what are called their civil rights, is equally strong for their protection in what are called their political rights. In each case you legislate to the same end, that the freedmen may be maintained in that liberty which has so tardily been accorded to him, and the legislation is just as "appropriate" in one case as in the other. But there is another reason which is with me peremptory. There is no discrimination of color in the allegiance which you require. Colored citizens, like white citizens, owe allegiance to the United States; therefore, they may claim protection as an equivalent. In other words, allegiance and protection must be reciprocal. As you claim allegiance of colored persons, you must accord protection. One is the consideration of the other. And this protection must be in all the rights of citizens, civil and political.

THANKSGIVING.

A PROCLAMATION.

Almighty God, our Heavenly Father, has been pleased to vouchsafe to us as a people another year of that national life which is an indispensable condition of peace, security, and progress. That year, moreover, has been crowned with may peculiar blessings. The civil war, that was so recently among us, has not been anywhere reopened. Foreign intervention has ceased to excite alarm or apprehension. Intrusive pestilence has been benignly mitigated. Domestic tranquility has improved, sentiments of reconciliation have largely prevailed, and affections of loyalty and patriotism have been widely renewed. Our fields have yielded quite abundantly; our mining industry has been richly rewarded; and we have been allowed to extend our railroad system far into the interior recesses of the country, while our commerce has resumed its customary activity in foreign seas. These great national blessings demand a national acknowledgment. Now, therefore, I, Andrew Johnson, President of the U. S. do hereby recommend that Thursday, the 29th day of November next, be set apart and be observed everywhere in the several States and United States, by the people thereof, as a day of thanks-giving and praise to Almighty God, with due remembrance that in His temple doth every man speak of His honor. I recommend, also, that on the same solemn occasion we do humbly and devoutly implore Him to grant to our national councils and to our whole people that divine wisdom which alone can lead any nation into the ways of all good. In offering these national thanksgivings, praises, and supplications, we have the divine assurance that the Lord remaineth a king forever; those that are meek shall He guide in judgment, and such as are gentle shall He learn His way. The Lord shall give strength to his people and the Lord shall give to his people the blessings of peace.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the U. S. to be affixed. Done at the city of Washington this 8th day of October, in the year 1866, and of the independence of the United States the ninety-first.

ANDREW JOHNSON.

By the President.
WM. H. SEWARD, Sec. of State.

AFRAID OF HIS EARS.—At a social, recently, a noted wag found himself, in the course of the evening, in general conversation with a nervous looking stranger. Pointing out to him a gentleman of an inquiring turn of mind, in another portion of the room he said:

"Do you see that man there? He has a mania—a very unpleasant one, too. He is possessed with the idea that he must bite off strangers' ears, and it has caused a dreadful amount of trouble. I do not know whether he will show any of the symptoms to night, but perceiving you are a stanger, I deem it my duty put you on your guard. Don't let him approach very close to you."

The expression of horror that spread over the face of the nervous man clearly proved that he had heard the warning. A little later the benevolent informer got an opportunity to tell the inquiring man that that man (pointing out the individual,) was a physical wonder, as a roaring noise could be distinctly heard proceeding from his ear by getting within eighteen inches of his ear. Our curious friend was struck with such an unheard of phenomenon, and very properly began to work himself close enough for a personal investigation. The movement was seen by the nervous man, and great drops of apprehensive sweat oozed out from his brow and trickled down his cheeks. Nearer and nearer approached the one, and more terribly intense grew the horror of the other. The space between them was slowly but surely lessening. The curious man was within an ace of the "roaring," when the agony of the "roarer" reached its crisis, and clenching his fist he landed it between the "lookers" of the unfortunate searcher after physical wonders, shouting at the top of his voice:

"Bite off my ears will you?"

The effect of this on the astonished audience was very exciting.

JOSH BILLINGS ON MUSQUITOES.—Mr. Billings thus expresses himself on the musquitoes:

"We are told that that there want ennything made in vain. This is so, but I have thought the time spent in manufacturing musketoze must have been wasted if the musketoze want. How they were put together I never could tell; and there was one commercial peculierity about the muskeeter trade, and that iz, the supply always exceeds the demand, and yet the production is not diminished; I kant understand this no how. They are born of poor but industrious parents, and are brought up with great care under the auspices of some ov our best families. They have great impudence, and don't hesitate to stick their friends with a bad bill. They have also consummate courage. I have known a single muskeeter to fight a man and his wife all nite long and draw the first blood. It is very easy to kill musketoze when you kan. But in striking them you are apt to hit the exact plase where they recently wuz. They are cheerful little cusses, singing as they toil."

Tunnel Under the English Channel.

The greatest conception of the age is the proposed tunnel under the English Channel. The width of the channel where it is proposed to begin the work is about twenty miles. Explorations and examinations on the line of the contemplated work are now being made, and, so far, the indications are altogether favorable to the project. One of the most experienced engineers of the day, Mr. Hawkshaw, has resolved to grapple with the problem, and is engaged in the preliminary explorations. He has for about two years been engaged in geological investigations of the localities. Borings are now being made at a considerable expense in the neighborhood of Dover, and by permission of the French Government, between Calais and Boulogne; and in the course of the summer explorations will be made in mid-channel.

It is proposed to carry on excavations for the tunnel from both ends, as well as from the shafts in the channel. At the top of the shafts powerful steam engines will be erected for pumping, for drawing up the excavated material, and for supplying power to the machinery by which the excavation will be effected. The tunnel will communicate on the French side with the Northern of France Railway, and on the English side with the Southeastern and London, Chatham and Dover Railaswy, so that there will be an unbroken line of railway communication between London and Paris.

MOTHERLY LOVE.—Last among the characteristics of woman is that sweet motherly love which nature has given her; it is almost independent of cold reason, and wholly removed from all selfish hope of reward. Not because it is lovely does the mother love her child, but because it is a living part of herself—the child of her heart, a fraction of her own nature. In every uncorrupted nation of the earth this feeling is the same. Climate, which changes every thing else, changes not that. It is only the most corrupted forms of power of society which have power gradually to make luxurious vices sweeter than the tender cares and toils of maternal love. In Greenland, where the climate affords no nourishment to infants, the mother nourishes her child up to the third or fourth year of its life. She endures all the nascent indignation of the rude and domineering spirit of manhood with indulgent, all forgiving patience. The negress is armed with more than manly strength when her child is attacked by savages. We read with astonished admiration the examples of her matchless courage and contempt of danger. But if death robs that tender hearted mother, which we are pleased to call a savage, of her best comfort—the charms and cares of her existence—where is the heart that can conceive her sorrow? The feeling which it breathes is beyond all expression.

THE ELDEST DAUGHTER AT HOME.—To be able to get dinner, to sweep the room, to make a garment, to tend a baby, would add greatly to the list of a young lady's accomplishments. Where can we behold a more lovely sight than the eldest daughter of a family, standing in the sweet simplicity of her new womanhood, by the side of her toiling, careworn mother, to relieve and aid her? Now she presides at the table, now directs in the kitchen, now amuses the fretting babe, now diverts half a score of little folks in the library. She can assist her younger brothers in their sports, or the elder ones in their studies; read the newspaper to her weary father, or smooth the aching brow of her fevered mother. Already with a helping hand, and a cheerful smile for every emergency, she is an angel of love, and a blessing to the home circle. Should she be called out of it to originate a home of her own, would she be any the less lovely or self-sacrificing?

☞A friend relates the following: A young lady having purchased an assortment of music at a music store, on returning to her carriage recollected a piece she had neglected to buy. "Sir," said she on re-entering the store, "there is one thing which I had forgotten, and which I must now request you to give to me." "And what is that?" asked the young music seller. "It is, sir One Kind Kiss Before We Part." She meant the song of that name. The gay youth vaulting instantaneously over the counter, saluted the fair stranger. He lost his heart and his situation.

☞"Well, Annie, how do you get along with that stupid fool of a lover of yours! Did you succeed in getting rid of him!" "O, yes, I got rid of him easy enough. I married him and have no lover now.

☞A gentleman, walking with two ladies, stepped on a hogshead hoop, that flew up and struck him in the face. "Good gracious!" said he, "which of you droped that!"

☞The dove, recollect, did not return to Noah with the olive branch till the second time of her going forth; why, then, should you despond at the failure of a first attempt.

☞Unrighteous gains has destroyed millions, but has never made one man permanently prosperous and happy.

"I know of no mode in which a loyal citizen may so well demonstrate his devotion to his country as by sustaining the Flag the Constitution and the Union, under all circumstances, and UNDER EVERY ADMINISTRATION REGARDLESS OF PARTY POLITICS, AGAINST ALL ASSAILANTS, AT HOME AND ABROAD."—STEPHEN A. DOUGLAS.

The Amendment in the South.

The Mississippi Legislature met in Jackson, on the 16th inst., when Gov. Humphreys transmitted his message to the body. In speaking of the Constitutional Amendment, which he said had been sent to them for their action by Secretary Seward, he said:

"This amendment, adopted by a Congress of less than three-fourths of the States of the Union, in palpable violation of the rights of more than one-fourth of the States, is such an insulting outrage and denial of the equal rights of so many of our worthiest citizens who have shed lustre and glory upon our section and our race, both in the forum and in the field, such a gross usurpation of the rights of the State, and such a centralization of power in the Federal Government that I presume a mere reading of it will cause its rejection by you."

If the above sentiments prove to be the rule by which to guide the people of the South, we think it will fail in its effect. The Governor may be honest in saying worthy citizens have shed lustre and glory upon their section in the field, if we understand him to refer to the bravery of the Southern troops, but he forgets that the people of the North will not and can not see it in the same light. The North will not believe that the South shed lustre on the Nation.

However unconstitutional it may appear, yet the South must consider what is the proper course to pursue. If they persist in refusing the overtures which our people have inflicted upon them, then they may look for worse, as they may by their obstinacy only lead the many to follow the negro suffrage, confiscating agitators, who are now in the minority. We feel confident Gov. Humphrey's plan won't work, even if he does appeal to Southern chivalry to remember its lustrous deeds at Bull Run and the Peninsula. Southern chivalry we think, hasn't forgotten Gettysburg and Petersburg, and the strains of Northern bugles playing "On to Richmond" still rings in their ears.

WOMEN TO VOTE.—The question of women voting, like negro voting, it appears, will have to be definitely settled. While the policy and impolicy of negro voting is being assiduously argued, the matter of "woman's rights" also comes on apace. A petition to the next legislature is being circulated in this neighborhood asking for an amendment to our State Constitution granting this privilege to women. We are led to think our women are at the head of this project, and if we were asked to assign a reason we would feel safe in attributing it to the fact that they feel themselves just as good as negroes; and being authoritatively cognizant of the truth that a certain faction is aiming to confer the suffrage on the negro, they are equally solicitous in urging a party to advocate their rights as well. Keep the ball in motion, and if we don't get in a pretty kettle of fish we won't know why. We are already led to predict the day when in this town we will have three voting rendezvous—one for white men, another for white women, and a third for black men, and we might as well add a fourth one for black women. Let 'em come; better now than again.

THANKSGIVING DAY.—The President has appointed Thursday, the 29th of November next, to be observed as a day of National Thanksgiving. It is well that we as a people should devote this day to giving thanks to Him who rules over us, and who has guided us through the storm of war, and who has so graciously attended to our daily wants by making the ground to reward abundantly the labor of the tiller. We have reason to thank the Almighty that the direful cholera has not made deadly inroads into our population, as it has in eastern climes. While we have much else for which to be thankful, in the spirit of the proclamation we should implore that wisdom and harmony should reign in our national councils, and that our rulers should be filled with that knowledge to the glory of the nation. Let us hope and pray that undivided peace shall speedily come within our borders, and that true Christian forbearance and forgiveness and justness shall characterize all our people.

Geary's Majority.

Geary's official majority in the State is 17,045 large enough for all useful purposes, in a vote of 596,219. The full vote for Governor in 1863 was 513,677—Curtin's majority 15,325.

☞A severe storm recently occured on the Southern coast in which many vessels were destoyed, amongst them the Evening Star, which sunk with two hundred persons on board. Other vessels barely escaped destruction, and had to come back to port.

Threatened Trouble in Maryland.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22, 1866.

The threatened troubles in Maryland are exciting the deepest interest. A collision between the State and local authorities of Baltimore looks imminent. Several organizations have already tendered their services to the latter. Gov. Swan, of Maryland, arrived this morning, and had a protracted interview with the President. It is not positively known whether U. S. troops will be tendered him to sustain his course in removing the Police Commissioners or not, but the indications are that nothing of the kind will be done. The question at issue is simply this: The Police Commissioners of Baltimore appoint the Judges of Elections. The Conservative party claim that these officers violated the law in the municipal election last week, by making false returns. Affidavits have been laid before the Governor setting forth that in one precinct forty Conservative votes were cast, and only twenty two were returned. The Governor therefore, claims the right to remove the Police Commissioners for a violation of law. His opponents declare that he is required to do this through the Courts, and threaten armed resistance to any other procedure. The Legislative ticket to be elected in Baltimore controls the Legislature to such an extent as to decide the Senatorial question either for or against a Radical. The vote also in Baltimore will settle the way the State will go. Forney in the Chronicle to-day calls on the people of the North to stand in readiness to open the way through Maryland again to the Capitol. The evening Administration paper, here heads its leading article in reply to Forney as follows: "To your tents, O Israel! Imminent danger surrounding us—organize! organize!"

BALTIMORE, October 21.—Governor Swann returned late last night from his visit to President Johnson. It is understood that a compromise has been proposed by parties representing the Government, that the Commissioners should appoint one of the three Judges in each ward, and one Clerk of Elections from the Conservative party. This proposition is now under consideration by the Police Commissioners. The Police Commissioners have been in consultation with their counsel and prominent citizens. It is understood that the Commissioners will not appear in person before the Governor to morrow, but will, through their counsel, file a response denying the power of the Gov. to try the charges, but at the same time declaring their readiness to meet the accusations before any Court of competent jurisdiction. The commissioners have not entertained any proposition which looks to any compromise, but declare their determiuation of resisting any encroachment upon their functions.

The Constitutional Amendment.

There seems to be a growing disposition on the part of the people of the South to accept the Constitutional amendment, and thus do away with the pretext afforded to the radicals for hostile legislation towards them on the ground of their alleged intractability. The Charlotteville [Virginia] Chronicle says:—"The Southern people want rest. To secure it, they would accept the Constitutional amendment. Guarantee them rest, and every State will ratify the amendment." The Raleigh [North Carolina] Standard calls upon the South "to take this amendment to avoid further and greater evils," while the Charlotte [North Carolina] Democrat prefers the adoption of the proposed amendment to the "abolishment of our State governments," "enforced negro suffrage," and "confiscation." The Newbern Times tells the people that they should now hasten to adopt the Constitutional plan, and thus secure immediate tranquility, and admission into the Union. The Charleston (S. C.) News is now convinced that there is no other course open to the Southern people, while the Savannah (Ga.) Republican points to the amendment as the Northern ultimatum, and adds that "nothing more will be required of them." The New Orleans Picayune is now presenting to its readers from day to day, "practical reflections upon the amendment," wherein the measure is shown to be not so unjust and unreasonable as many are disposed to think it. Within a brief time Southern journals have exhibited a very perceptible change in tone.

The Wreck of the Evening Star.

The vessel named the Evening Star having on board some two or three hundred passengers, while out about two hundred miles from the Southern coast, encountered a severe gale, which resulted in destroying the vessel. The following is a graphic account of the scenes on board and incident to the wreck.

FERNANDINA, FLA., Oct. 9, 1866.

Having had an interview with some of the shipwrecked seamen of the ill fated steamship Evening Star, I am enabled to lay before your readers some further details of the dreadful catastrophe, involving, as it did, the plunge of some three hundred and fifty persons into a watery grave. The ship is represented as having been somewhat injured by a previous mishap some months ago, of grounding on the Florida reefs, and needed some overhauling to "tighten her up." In the next place, the ship was sent to sea with a short complement of seamen, having but six men before the mast, when her complement was from twelve to sixteen. Her firemen were also deficient, inasmuch as she had "green" or new men at the work, who were unable to stand the hot work, and hard usage of a fireroom. I learn there had been a strike in your city recently among the coalpassers, and firemen's associations, and by agreement sixty dollars a month was demanded by them, and was refused by the owners or agent. Thereupon a number of new firemen were shipped in their stead at $40 per month, and the more experienced and costly ones dispensed with. Captain Knapp is well spoken of by all who survived the dreadful scene as a most efficient commander, and one who was fully up to his duty on this most trying occasion. His presence of mind and energies were fully up to the duties of the emergency; but alas! that you must record, to the bereaved and the desolate it all availed nothing in the fearful tempest that then raged on the deep. The storm that day (Tuesday) and throughout the succeeding night is described as one of the severest ever known on the Atlantic coast. The passengers worked faithfully with the crew in all their efforts to save the ship, and even many ladies engaged themselves to the latest moment in the desperate work, and only quailed when the fearful announcement was made by the captain that "the ship must go down!" This was indeed a most awful moment; one which no pen can justly describe. Out in mid ocean, companion to the howling tempest, the sea lashed into fury by the wind which came with the force of some solid substance; there, on a great ship, tossed and buffetted about like a child's toy or bubble on the breeze, what could they hope for in this wild commotion with only an open rowboat to bear them on? Some, with clasped hands, stood in mute despair while others raved frantically, and cried out to their companions, "Oh, save me! save!" The mother was seen to press her child closer, and the husband the wife to his bosom. Others ran from the deck into the saloons, and there bent down in some corner to await the end.

A husband (an army officer) was seen with his devoted wife and two small children, all clasped tightly together, and there remained, even when the foaming surge of the angry waves washed through the saloon where they were kneeling, and there, in that last embrace, death claimed the faithful victims. So rapid was the closing scene of this fearful tragedy that two of the ship's boats were never loosed from the davits or moorings on deck, but went down with the ship. Two of them had been cut loose and efforts made to launch them, but one roll of the ship plunged both, with all who were near, into the yawning gulf, and the next moment returned them and shattered the frail bark into atoms against the steamer's side. Another moment and there came a billow, high-crested and furious. The devoted ship but partially lifted her stern. The shock of that wave drove through and through the saloons, and with a quiver throughout her frame she settled to starboard, and the Evening Star was gone forever.

This was six o'clock Wednesday morning, October 3d.

THE TWO LIFE BOATS.

A few seconds' time were enough to obliterate every appearance that so gallant a ship had gone down with its hundred of precious souls. Nothing, save some broken fragments of timber and here and there a few human heads served to mark the ill fated spot. Two of the life boats rested upon the waves, and towards them the eyes of drowning scores were turned. In the midst of the draft stuff, lashed about like demons of destruction, many found their death, as the severe gashes and bad bruises of the survivors bear witness. A piece of the hurricane deck and pilot house composed the only additional float on which there was the least prospect of life, and to this frail support clung a woman in the wildest energy of despair. The dead body of another woman rested lower down on a portion of the deck—another wave, and both were swept into the deep.

THE STRUGGLE FOR LIFE.

Is now in earnest, at mid ocean in a raging sea, amid a mass of floating drift, that threatens each moment to give each his death blow, efforts are made to reach the life boats, in which some have secured themselves. In one of these were eleven men—the captain a lady, five passengers and four seamen. An upset of the boat only a few minutes after the disaster lost the Captain and the lady, Capt. Knapp having been stunned by contact with the floating debris. The woman rose out of reach. At length the boats fairly under way, the one which I described with nine men having one oar, a double handful of bread, a bag and a life preserver. Without one drop of water, no compass, no sextant, no sail and at least two hundred miles from the coast of Florida. With a mast made of an oar, a canvass bag cut open for a sail which when spread out was exactly twenty by twenty-six inches; with a life preserver cut open to assist as a jib, this was the whole means of navigating the wide expanse before us, and with only a piece of plank for steering purposes. With these scanty means of subsistance and locomotion, the boat was put before the wind, and with a few upsets on the crests of the seas, our little bark kept on her way, constantly slipping water in large quantities, which was bailed out with our hats and so to the end. On our bread failed us, and our thirst increased fearfully. It was almost more than could be borne. The night of the second day, Thursday, in shipping a large sea, we had the good fortune to ship also ten small flying fish—a God send—which the men most speedily devoured, and much to their relief.

THE SAME DAY

ON FRIDAY,

two men died from exhaustion and delirium from drinking large quantities of salt water. One of these was a Frenchmen, the other a young officer named Dickson, who said he had recently graduated at West Point Academy, and was on his way to the army in Texas. The bodies were committed to the deep early after death. On Saturday afternoon, only a few hours before making the light, another passenger died, named McKimm, whose body was retained in the boat, and at eleven o'clock p. m., on Saturday Oct. 6, we were cast ashore,

ON AMELIA ISLAND BEACH,

some four miles south and east of Fernandina, Florida. Another passenger was in a dying condition when we reached the shore, and being unable to move, was left in the life boat, and found dead next morning, when relief was sent to him. These bodies, neither of which could be identified from anything on the clothing, were taken in charge by the civil authorities and decently buried in the cemetery.—Herald.

☞The temperance movement appears to be making great progress in the cities. A procession of temperance advocates of all denominations was witnessed in Washinton on the 15th, which received the recognitions of the President.

Terrific Explosion in St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 17.—A terrific boiler explosion occurred at ten o'clock, to-day, in the turning shop of J. H. Babcock, on Franklin avenue, totally demolishing the shop and also a three story brick building on West street.

Twenty-two persons are known to be buried in the ruins; eight, when taken out, were dead, and twelve more or less injured. Two, and perhaps more, are still buried in the debris. The ruins immediately took fire, and a large force is now engaged in extinguishing the flames and removing the rubbish.

LATER.—Six more dead bodies have been taken from the ruins of the turning shop this evening It is now supposed others still remain buried in the debris. Some of the bodies are so badly burned that they cannot be told.

The cause of the explosion to-day was the weakness of the boiler, of which the proprietors are said to have been notified by their engineer some days since. The coroner will investigate the whole matter to-morrow.—After the explosion the ruins took fire and burned furiously for some time, despite the most desperate efforts of the firemen. Two dwellings adjoining were consumed. During this time the scene was appalling. The appeals for aid of helpless creatures in the ruins, and the frantic cries of their relatives outside, were heartrending in the extreme. Up to 9 a. m., no more bodies have been found.

Great Fire in Quebec.

The telegraph on Tuesday last gave us a brief account of another great calamity by fire which has befallen this ancient Canadian city, more than two thousand dwellings and some fourteen churches having been laid in ruins, leaving not less than eighteen thousand people houseless and homeless.—The fire originated in the house of a grocer, and the wind being very high the flames soon spread. This calamity is the greater because it happened so near to the beginning of the long and rigorous Canadian winter. The case of those unfortunate people appeals strongly to the sympathies of the Christian world, which ought to know no national boundaries.

Two terrible fires occurred in that city in 1845—the year of the great fire in Pittsburg—at only a month's interval. Nearly three thousand houses were burned in the fauhourgs of St. Roch and St. John, involving a loss of property of about $8,000,000.

In 1841 the population of Quebec was a little over thirty-five thousand It may now be in the neighborhood of fifty thousand. It is one of the oldest cities on the continent, having been founded by Samuel Champlain in 1608 twelve years before the landing of the pilgrims at Plymouth Rock.

☞The Denver News publishes the following account of another Mormon outrage: "We learn that Mr. Weston, editor of the Salt Lake Union Vidette was taken by the Mormons on the night of the 3d inst., and severely beaten, and given six hours to leave the city and take with him several prominent Gentiles. Mr. Weston refuses to leave, and denounces Mormonism in the bitterest terms. From the frequent occurrence of outrages by the Mormons on the Gentiles, serious trouble may be looked for."

THE Springfield [Mass.] Republican says: "Hay is scarce, and getting scarcer. The price here, however, remains about the same, $26 to $28, while in most cities, and in the outlying counties it is scarce at from $30 to $35 and even $40. A man in Providence offered a dealer in this city $35 per ton for 500 ton to be delivered in Providence, but the dealer would have lost money had he accepted the offer."

LATEST FASHIONS DEMAND

J. W. Bradley's Celebrated Patent Duplex Elliptic, or Double Spring,

SKIRT!

The wonderful Flexibility and great comfort and pleasure to any lady wearing the Duplex Elliptic Skirt will be experienced particularly in all crowded assemblies, operas, carriages, railroad cars, church pews, arm chairs, for promenade and house dress, as the skirt can be folded when in use to occupy a small place as easily and conveniently as a silk or muslin dress, an invaluable quality in crinoline, not found in any single spring skirt.

A lady having enjoyed the pleasure, comfort, and great convenience of wearing the duplex elliptic steel spring skirt for a single day, will never afterwards willingly dispense with their use. For children, misses and young ladies they are superior to all others.

They will not bend or break like the single spring, but will preserve their perfect and graceful shape when three or four ordinary skirts will have been thrown aside as useless. The hoops are covered with cambic and twisted thread, and the bottom rods are not only double springs, but twice (or double) covered; preventing them from wearing out when dragging down stoops, stairs, &c.

The Duplex Elliptic is a great favorite with all ladies and is universally recommended by the Fashion Magazines as the standard skirt of the fashionable world.

To enjoy the following inestimable advantages in crinoline, viz: superior quality, perfect manufacture, stylish shape and finish, flexibility, durability, comfort and economy, enquire for J. W. Bradley's Duplex Elliptic, or double spring skirt, and be sure you get the genuine article.

CAUTION.—To guard against imposition be particular to notice that skirts offered as "Duplex" have the red ink stamp, viz: J. W. Bradley's Duplex Elliptic Steel Springs' upon the waist band—none others are genuine. Also notice that every hoop will admit a pin being passed through the centre, thus revealing the two (or double) springs braided together therein, which is the secret of their flexibility and strength, and a combination not to be found in any other spring.

For sale in all stores where first class skirts are sold throughout the United States and elsewhere.

Manufactured by the sole owners of the patent.

MEDICAL ELECTRICITY.

Wonderful Scientific Discovery

For the Treatment of Acute and Chronic Diseases.

The undersigned would respectfully call the attention of the afflicted females of Huntingdon county, and the adjoining counties, that I have taken instruction in the correct application of Electricity, and am now fully prepared to operate successfully for the cure of persons affected with the following named diseases, viz:

General Debility,	Neuralgia,
Kidney Complaints,	Nervous Diseases;
Liver "	Female Weakness,
Spinal Affection,	Piles and Gravel,
Costiveness,	Bronchial Affection,
Foul Stomach,	Dyspepsia,
Rheumatism,	Headache,
Diseases of the Womb,	Diabetes,
Suppressed Menses,	Goitor, or Big Neck.

Female patients can receive treatment at my residence for any of the above diseases with the wonderful discovery of Electricity, which is without a parallel, and the very desideratum for the afflicted. Please give us a trial. It is a mild operation, producing no shock or unpleasant sensation, and relieves where medicine has no effect at all.

Brief Items.

—Mrs. Lefford has our thanks for a very large mess of very large and excellent potatoes.

—Thomas N. Colder has succeeded E. O. & G. W. Colder in the Alexandria Brewery. This is a famous brewery noted for the genuine article.

—Rev. Mr. Barrow will preach in the Episcopal Church, on Wednesday evening, at seven o'clock. Rev. Dr. Speer, will also preach on next Sabbath morning and afternoon.

—Liester's new brick building, on the corner of the diamond is nearly completed. It is just the kind of a building we like to see. We hope the spirit of improvement now prevailing will not be permitted to die out.

—The weather during a portion of last week was, it is feared, a little too good for grain that was sown early, and may have the effect of making that which has grown too high somewhat rank and poor.

—We are again hearing of frightful explosions of kerosene oil lamps, attended with loss of life. Those who use kerosene in this neighborhood should use it carefully, as it is something that cannot be trifled with without getting on a "bust."

—The gossiping inquiry is already made, who is going to get married this winter? It don't do to disappoint the gossiping fraternity, but we would advise them to wait and see the announcements as they appear in the Globe.

—Mr. Erk Miles of this place broke his arm on Saturday last while playing base ball. He endeavored to throw the ball too great a distance. Our young men are apt to play this game too violently, as it requires caution in every particular.

—Fisher & Sons have made a commendable improvement on their premises adjoining the old stone corner. It consists of a paved brick sidewalk from the corner of Hill street to the corner of Washington street. All who walk it notice the change. Will not some others do likewise and receive the thanks of the traveling public?

—We receive discouraging reports from all parts of the country with regard to the potato crop. In our own county the reports are unfavorable; some farmers alleging that they have less than one third of a good crop. The destruction has been occasioned by the black rot, owing to too much wet weather.

—Messrs. Lazelle and King, the two acrobats attached to Howe's European Circus, met with an accident at Lancaster one day last week. While performing the trapeze broke loose from the support and precipitated the actors to the ground, a height of thirty feet. Both sustained severe injuries, Mr. Lazelle falling on his head and side, and breaking his arm.

—We hope our friends did not get frightened at the notice in the last Journal & American offering this certain office for sale. Never mind, Robert, it takes more than your feeble breath to blow us away, and we can assure our patrons we are still "right side up with care." When we tire at our business we will make room for a gentleman—not a public defamer like you Robert.

—Mr. Hiram Johnston, of this place, we are sorry to say was arrested on Saturday last, charged with forging a check on the Penna. Railroad Company, for $716. He was taken to Harrisburg where an investigation will be made, and it is hoped he is not the man. The forgery is said to have been committed at Harrisburg on the 28th of September, on which day Mr. Johnston is said to have been at home.

—Fishers' corner is a complete improvement. John G. Miles, Esq., is ornamenting his dwelling very handsomely. W. B. Zeigler has added a good business room to his property. A new store room is being finished by Mr. N. C. Decker adjoining Jacobs's Hotel. Some thirty new buildings have been erected in town this season. We hope the spirit of improvement will still continue.

☞Protecting the toes of children's Shoes from wear by Metal Tips, has proved a most important and useful invention. But until lately a great mistake has been made in applying them chiefly to the coarser grades of shoes. For the higher the cost of the shoe the more there is saved by protecting the toe from wear, which can only be done by a Metal Tip. Genteel Metal Tipped shoes are now being made and are worn by the best families in the city. Manufacturers could not have conferred a greater public favor than by supplying this great want.—Boston Journal.

Temperance Meeting.

The friends of the temperance cause in the upper end of the county, met in Mooresville on Thursday last. There were about seven hundred people present, representing all classes, old men, old women and young men and young women, the latter of whom to a great extent sustaining well the reputation of Shaver's Creek for girls of grace and beauty. The preponderance of ladies over gentlemen present, augurs well, in our estimation, for the success of the cause, and may have accounted for the gratifying number of young lads whom we saw wearing the ribbons. Another gratifying spectacle was the large number of old and middle-aged men and women who have come out on the side of temperance, showing their readiness to assist much by their wisdom and, perhaps, experience.

After participating in a huge dinner, which we can only stop here to commend the good people of that section for preparing, the crowd assembled in front of the speaker's stand and listened to some remarks by the Rev. Mr. Cromlish of Lancaster. We have not much to say for the speaker, as we fully concur in his own statement that he spoke in a very sketchy way, and we are not sure whether he knew what he did say five minutes after he was done, unless it was when he was reminded by the next speaker Mrs. Frances Gage. We think the cause did not lose any by his rambling, ill-timed remarks. Mrs. Gage was received with much attention, as it was the first opportunity afforded to many of hearing a lady speak. She showed that some things could be done as well as others, and evinced that a lady's oratory was far preferable to some gentleman's.

The largeness of the meeting and the enthusiasm manifested gave us the assurance that the temperance cause is rapidly progressing in the upper end, all of which is all right. There were four lodges represented—one at McAlevy's Fort called the McClean Lodge, another at Saulsburg called the Smithsonian Lodge, and another at Ennisville called the Stratford Lodge, and a fourth at Petersburg called Mt. Hope Lodge. These lodges are all in a flourishing condition, and we hope the meeting will have the effect of making them more energetic and add many more to their numbers.

The Huntingdon String Band was present, as usual on such occasions, and discoursed music to suit. We think they struck a chord in the hearts of some of the bystanders, which mayhap is still vibrating. That is a tender chord.

Another.

Mrs. Frances Gage spoke to a large audience last evening in the basement of the Methodist Church. Her subject was temperance, and of all the lectures we have heard on this inexhaustive topic, her remarks exceeded in point of originality of ideas and symmetry of expression the most of them and equalled the best. This was the fourth or fifth lecture since her stay in this county.

Mr. Benedict in a little trouble.

Our venerable townsman, Mr. A. W. Benedict is now in New York State, enlightening the people as to the truth as it is in the Republican party. On Wednesday evening last he spoke in the city of New York, and our citizens can imagine our surprise on reading in the New York Times, the following synopsis of his remarks on that occasion:

The proposed amendments to the Constitution were them discussed seriatim, and Mr. Benedict declared the only safety to the country lies in the adoption of these amendments. Mr. Benedict, in conclusion, declared that he was in favor of negro suffrage to the fullest extent, and that he had a large family of daughters, who were quite free to marry negroes if they pleased.

Of course our citizens who know Mr. Benedict better, could not believe that he made use of the two latter expressions. It only shows the difficulty a person gets into, however, when he takes upon himself such tasks. He who touches a coal will get black.

We were pleased to see the following vindication in the next issue of the paper. Mr. B. is all right again, although we think he would like to give the editor of the paper another "hauling over:"

A Correction.

NEW-YORK, Thursday, Oct. 18, 1866.
To the Editor of the N. Y. Times:

The short report of my remarks at the meeting in the Eighteenth Ward last evening, as published in your local political column this morning, does me great injustice. If of any importance, I prefer that your readers should know what I did, rather than what I did not say.

I said I was not in favor of universal negro suffrage. That suffrage was a conventional right: that some negroes now voted in this State, and whenever a majority of the people decided they should vote, no Democrat would refuse to submit to it. I said my children were all daughters, and I had never entertained a fear that one of them would marry a negro. If others had such fears, it was a poor compliment to the education or morals of their daughters; and that it was base and infamous to assert or insinuate that the white women of the North do what the history of the past had proven only white men of the South had done—mix their blood with the blood of the negro.

A. W. BENEDICT,
of Pennsylvania,

☞Morrell's majority in this Congressional district was 1319. It is needless to say he is our next Congressman, but so it is.

The Latest Fashions.

Since the invention and successful introduction of the Celebrated Duplex Elliptic (or double) Spring Hoop Skirt by Mr. J. W. Bradley of New York, the ladies throughout the country have given up the idea of discarding the fashion of wearing hoop skirts on account of the peculiar and graceful manner in which the Duplex Skirts adapt themselves to every exigency and emergency. So generally acceptable have these Skirts become that the ladies regard them as a special favorite in view of the superior flexibility, lightness and durability combined in their manufacture. They also consider them a far more economical and comfortable Hoop Skirt that ever has or can be made for all crowded assemblages, for the promenade or house dress. Any lady after wearing one of these Skirts will never afterwards willingly dispense with their use. Long experience in the manufacture of Hoop Skirts has proven to the proprietors of this invention, that single-springs will always retain that stiff, unyielding and bungling style which has ever characterized them, whereas the double spring hoop or the Duplex Elliptic, will be found free from these objections. Notwithstanding the ability of the manufacturers, Messrs. Wests, Bradley & Cary, to turn out over six thousand Skirts per day from their large manufactories in New York, they feel obliged to request all merchants ordering the Duplex Elliptic Skirts, to send their orders a few days before they are wanted, if possible, as they are always most constantly oversold some days ahead.

EXECUTORS' SALE OF REAL ESTATE.
[Estate of John Scott, dec'd.]
By virtue of power conferred by the last will of John Scott, dec'd., we will offer at public sale on the premises
On Saturday, October 13th, 1866, at one o'clock, p. m., all that certain lot of ground situate on main street in the borough of Alexandria, and fronting also on the street leading to the bridge across the Juniata river, having thereon a two story log and frame dwelling house, being part of lot No. 12, and the same on which the tannery of said deceased was formerly conducted. By consent of the widow and heirs, the boundaries will be so altered from those described in the will, as to straighten the division line between the lot to be sold and that occupied by Mrs. Agnes Scott, by extending the fence now on the middle of the lot up to the main street and down to the river, giving a front and width of about fifty feet, more or less.
Terms made known on day of sale.

Glorious News!
$100 ADDITIONAL BOUNTY!!
NEW BOUNTY LAW PASSED!
Attention, Discharged Soldiers!
The Act of Congress approved July 28, 1866, gives $100 additional bounty to all soldiers who enlisted for three years and were discharged by reason of expiration of service, or who were discharged for wounds received in battle and who have not received more than $100 bounty for such service. An additional bounty of $100 is also allowed to the nearest relative of soldiers who enlisted for a term of three years and who died or were killed in the service, to be paid in the following order: First, to the widow; second, to the children; third, to the father, and fourth, to the mother.
Soldiers' Widows.
By applying to W. H. Woods, of Huntingdon, Huntingdon county, Pa., you can have your pensions increased two dollars a month for each and every child you have, and when the widow has married or died, the children are entitled to the increase.
To all who have brought home the bodies of their friends who died or were killed in the service of the United States, there is a certain amount of compensation allowed you for the expenses incurred in bringing home the bodies of your friends, which you can obtain by making application to me.
Invalid Soldiers, Attention!
The act of Congress, approved June 6, 1866, gives additional pensions to the following class of persons:
Soldiers who have lost both eyes or both hands, $25 per month; who have lost both feet $20 per month; who have lost one hand or one foot, or totally disabled in the same, $15 per month.
Persons who have been deprived of their pensions in consequence of being in the civil service of the United States Government, can be restored to the pension roll by applying to me.
Fathers and mothers who were in whole or in part dependent upon their sons for support are entitled to a pension. Also brothers and sisters under sixteen years of age.
All discharged soldiers who did not receive transportation to their places of enlistment when discharged, are entitled to receive it; and also all who were held as prisoners of war, and did not receive commutation of rations when released or discharged, are entitled to it.
Officers who were in the service on the 3d of March, 1865, and were discharged after the 9th of April, 1865, by applying to me can receive three months extra pay.
Soldiers of 1812!
All soldiers, or soldiers' widows, of the war of 1812, who have served two months, or been wounded or disabled in such service, if in necessitous circumstances, are entitled to an annuity of $40.
Local Bounty.
All veteran soldiers who gave their credit to districts in the State of Pennsylvania, and who received no local bounty, are entitled to receive three hundred dollars.
All persons having any of the above mentioned claims, or any other kind of claim against the United States or State Governments, will please address me, giving full particulars, enclosing a stamp for return postage, and they will receive a prompt reply.

PROF. J. H. M'ENTYRE'S GREAT REMEDY,
THE
INDIAN COMPOUND
Internal and External Medicine,
WILL CURE:
☞ Diarrhœa, Bloody Flux in one day,
☞ Headache and Earache in three minutes.
☞ Toothache in one minute.
☞ Neuralgia in five minutes,
☞ Sprains in twenty minutes,
☞ Sore Throat in ten minutes,
☞ Cholic and Cramp in five minutes,
☞ Rheumatism in one day,
☞ Pain in the Back or Side in ten minutes,
☞ Bad Coughs or Colds in one day,
☞ Fever and Ague in one day.
☞ Cures Deafness, Asthma, Piles,
☞ Bronchitis Affections, Dyspepsia,
☞ Inflammation of the Kidneys, Erysipelas,
☞ Liver Complaint and Palpitation of the Heart.
Keep it in your Families—Sickness comes when least expected.
I propose to check, and effectually dissipate more ache and pain, and to accomplish more perfect equilibrium of all the circulating fluids in the human system, than can be effected by any other, or all other methods of medical aid in the same space of time.
THIS POPULAR REMEDY is fast coming into use, for the fact that I cure, free of charge, all these complaints whenever there is an opportunity to do so. As soon as it is applied it almost miraculously kills the pain. I do not ask you to buy before you are certain of its efficiency. If you have an ache or pain, it is warranted to do all it purports on the label.
I do not propose to cure every disease—only a class named by my directions. My liniment operates on chemical and electric principles, and is, therefore, appliable, to the cure or natural restorative of all organic derangement arising from an improper circulation of the nerve Vital fluids.
Prof. J. H. McEntyre's INDIAN COMPOUND acts directly on the absorbents, reducing glandular and other swellings in incredible short time, without any possible danger from its use under any possible circumstances.
This is an internal and external medicine—composed of roots, herbs and barks, such as our forefathers used—There is a bountiful supply on earth to cure all complaints if we only know what they were.
This has been a great study with the Medical Faculty for many years, to find out the Kinds best adapted to the above complaints—how to put them together, and what proportions to use. J. H. McENTYRE, Proprietor, Reading, Pa.

Paints, Oils, Glass, &c

AT REDUCED PRICES.

TEN YEARS diligent attention to business in the Hardware trade in this place, has given me an experience that enables me to secure great advantages for my customers in the selection of the best standard brands and reliable qualities of goods.

Having just returned from New York and Philadelphia with a splendid stock, bought since the recent decline in gold, I am now offering great inducements to buyers.

Among my stock may be found

WHAT EVERYBODY WANTS.

TOOLS AND MATERIALS FOR

Carpenters, Blacksmiths, Gunsmiths, Shoemakers, Saddlers, Painters, Coachmakers, Cabinet Makers, Machinists, Foundrymen,

And for all other kinds of Mechanics.

FARMERS

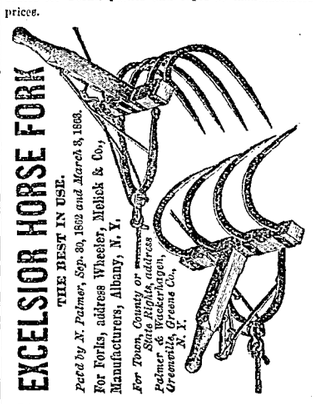
Will find in my stock a great variety of Farming Implements of the best quality, such as

Scythes, Rakes, Forks, Shovels, Spades, Hoes, Garden Trowels, Garden Hoes, Garden Rakes, Grass Hooks, Pruning Shears, Pruning Saws, Pruning Knives. &c., &c

Every farmer should see the famous

HARPOON HAY FORK!

It is the wonder of the age; and one trial convinces the most skeptical that it is the best Hay Fork made.—I have the agency for the sale of these forks for Huntingdon and parts of Bedford and Fulton counties and can fill orders for Forks, pullies and ropes at manufacturers prices.



I have also the celebrated

PALMER HORSE FORKS

Which have given such good satisfaction for the last 3 years, and which I am now selling at greatly reduced prices.

FOR BUILDERS

I have an endless assortment of

LOCKS, HINGES, SCREWS, BRADS, PAINTS, GLASS, PUTTY,

VARNISHES, &C.

DUNCANNON NAIL AGENCY.

Our best mechanics say that the

DUNCANNON NAILS

are the best brought to this market. I have the agency for the sale of these nails and spikes, and can be supplied promptly in quantities from one pound to one hundred kegs, at manufacturers' prices.

DEALERS, BUILDERS, and others,

HARRISBURG STONEWARE,

EARTHENWARE AND HOLLOWWARE, all sold low for cash.

Cheap

WOODEN PUMPS!

The merit of these pumps is shown by the fact that the demand for them is rapidly increasing everywhere. There is no iron in them to corrode and injure the water. They are light and convenient, so that every man can put in his own pump, the whole only costing him about one half the price of other pumps. Pumps, and wooden pipe to suit them, promptly shipped by railroad on receipt of orders. Give depth from floor to bottom of well.

Thankful for the patronage I have hitherto received I shall continue my endeavors to suit, accommodate and please all, and respectfully solicit a liberal share of public patronage.

JAMES A. BROWN.

Huntingdon, May 16, 1866.

DR. VENARD'S

STAR MAGIC LINIMENT.

$1000 REWARD will be paid for any medicine that excels this for the following diseases:

Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Spinal Affections, Contracted Joints, Cholic Pains, Pains in Side or Back, Toothache, Headache, Sprains, Sore Throat, Cuts, Bruises, Burns, and all Diseases of the Muscles, Skin and Glands.

This is an Internal and External Medicine, composed of Roots, Herbs and Barks such as our forefathers used.—There is a bountiful supply on the earth to cure all complaints, if we only knew what they were. This has been a subject for constant study with the Medical Faculty for a great many years, to find out the kinds best adapted to the above complaints—how to put them together, and what portions to use.

This wonderful remedy needs no recommendation save the results which invariably follow its application.

☞ This popular remedy is fast coming into use from the fact that it gives good satisfaction.

☞ PHYSICIANS are invited to test its efficacy in all cases of Rheumatism, Affections of the Spinal Column, and all Diseases of the Skin, Muscles and Glands. It has been used in thousands of instances under the personal supervision of the Inventors, and has never disappointed their expectations. All we ask for it is a trial—experimental proof—not the testimony of the men of straw, are the vouchers we desire to put out to the public.

It would be well for many now lying in beds of torture, if these facts could reach their sick chambers. It is more important to them than to the inventors that this should be the case. "Truth is mighty and must prevail."

☞ Keep it in your family, for sickness comes when you least expect it.

BROUGHER'S PATENT EXCELSIOR

BROOM HEAD OR WRAPPER.

PATENTED DECEMBER 26, 1865.

Everybody his own Broom Maker.

This head or Wrapper is constructed of Tin or Zinc, with sliding band and bolts, in connection with the centre bolt passing thro' the handle, holding it secure.

The article to which we call your attention is very simple, light and strong, weighing but SEVEN OUNCES.

The farming community have long needed an article of this character; and the high price of brooms, together with the simplicity, durability, and practical utility of this invention makes it more saleable than any other article ever introduced.

☞ We offer borough, township, and family rights for sale on reasonable terms, in the county of Huntingdon.

Designed exclusively to impart a thorough and

PRACTICAL BUSINESS EDUCATION.

All classes of persons require such an education. Those possessing means, need it in conducting their own business Those without means need it in obtaining and creditably filling lucrative positions in the employ of others.

The course of instruction and practice is arranged so as to fully meet the diversified wants of every department of as comprehended or embraced under the three general divisions of industry: Agriculture, Manufacture and Commerce.

Each student is instructed individually in both theory and practice of Book Keeping, according to the most approved and labor saving methods. Business Penmanship, Calculations, and all the collateral branches of a complete course of business education; and upon passing a satisfactory examination is awarded, by authority of law, a diploma, under the corporate seal of the college.

Students are received at any time. And it is believed that a practical experience of over TWENTY YEARS will be considered by the public an ample guarantee of the practical character of the course and efficiency of the instruction.

All further information desired can be obtained at the college, or by addressing the Principal for a circular by mail.

☞ A liberal discount is allowed to wounded and honorably discharged soldiers. The college is open day and evening.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE PICTORIAL BOOK OF

Anecdotes & Incidents of the Rebellion.

Heroic, Patriotic, Romantic, Humorous and Tragical.

There is a certain portion of the war that will never go into the regular histories, nor be embodied in romance or poetry, which is a very real part of it, and will, if preserved, convey to succeeding generations a better idea of the spirit of the conflict than many dry reports or careful narratives of events, and this part may be called the gossip, the fun, the pathos, of the war.

These illustrate the character of the leaders, the humor of the soldiers, the devotion of women, the bravery of men, the pluck of our heroes, the romance and hardships of the service. From the beginning of the war the author has been engaged in collecting all the anecdotes connected with or illustrative of it, and has grouped and classified them under appropriate heads, and in a very attractive form.

The volume is profusely illustrated with over 300 engravings by the first artists, which are really beautiful; worthy of examination as specimens of the art. Many of them are set into the body of the text, after the popular style of Lossing's Pictorial Field Book of the Revolution. The book's contents include reminiscences of campaign, picket, spy, bivouac, siege and battle-field adventures; thrilling feats of bravery, wit, drollery, comical and ludicrous adventures; etc., etc.

Amusement as well as instruction may be found in every page, as graphic detail, brilliant wit, and authentic history, are skillfully interwoven in this work of literary art.

This work sells itself. The people are tired of dry details and partisan works, and want something humorous, romantic and startling. Our agents are making from $100 to $200 per month, clear of all expenses. Send for circulars, giving full particulars, and see our terms and proof of the above assertion.
